

CONGRATULATORY ADDRESSES

DEMOCRATIC STATE COMMITTEE ROOMS PHILADELPHIA, October 9, 1867.

To the Democracy of Pennsylvania: Victory crowns your efforts and Pennsylvania is redeemed.

The Keystone proclaims her hatred of despotism, her fealty to the law, her fidelity to the Constitution.

You have elected Judge SHARSWOOD, a representative man, to the Supreme Bench; reversed the majority of last year, and added to the number of your Senators and members of the House of Representatives.

New York and New Jersey will follow where you have led, and the future is your own if you will grasp it.

To your untiring efforts in the work of organization is this result mainly due, and to you belongs the honor of the triumph.

New honors await you, new labors are before you.

You have won the fight for position, let us now prepare for the great battle of the coming year.

Pledging ourselves to the maintenance of a government of law for the entire Republic, to the preservation of the supremacy of our own race, to the development of our immense resources, to the reform of abuses, corruption and extravagance, and through these to the relief of the tax-payer, and the payment of the public debt, let us move resolutely forward.

By order of the Democratic State Committee, WILLIAM A. WALLACE, Chairman.

To the Democracy of Cambria County:

We have achieved a glorious victory. "Little Cambria" still occupies her proud position in the very front of the Democratic column. The official majority is 952—being a net gain of 300 on the vote of last fall. The majority on the county ticket is still higher, owing to the popularity of our candidates and the reaction caused by a slanderous handbill on the eve of the election.

The Democracy performed their whole duty nobly; yet not to them alone are we to ascribe the extent of our triumph. Many conservative Republicans, alarmed at the wild measures of the radicals, voted for our candidates, while a still greater number refused to vote. We know they will rejoice with us that the hand of the destroying angel of Radicalism has been stayed.

Ohio has gone for Judge Sharswood by about 744 majority. Ohio has elected a Republican Governor by a very small majority, but on the other hand has voted down the negro amendment by 50,000. In Indiana and Iowa we have also large gains.

We trust, now that the free North has spoken, that the warning voice will be heeded—that we shall have an immediate restoration of that Union to preserve which we have expended so much blood and treasure, and that the present burdens of the people will be relieved by a return to peace establishment and an economical administration of the government.

R. L. JOHNSTON, Chairman Democratic Co. Com.

A REPLY TO THE LIBEL.

It has been a subject of congratulation in past elections, here in Cambria county, that low personal abuse has been avoided by both parties. The canvass through which we have just passed has been eminently so, so far as the press is concerned. But there has been that done which we trust, for decency sake, will never be repeated in Cambria county; and from the abuse it has met at the hands of the people we think there are no fears of a repetition of the same dastardly game.

The Democratic ticket was nominated some three months before the election, and the character of every man on that ticket was fairly presented to the scrutiny of every elector. The columns of a free press, representing both political parties, as open to any charges that could be referred against any candidate by any responsible party. No charges were made, because we believe none could be truthfully made.

On the very eve of the election, however, after the respective papers had issued their last number before the election, a slanderous handbill was got up by some midnight assassin of character, printed in the columns of Cambria county, and, through the medium of the post office, scattered all over the country. We give this beautiful production to the world:

AN INSIDE VIEW OF POLITICS.

THE WAY THE MONEY GOES. 'Tis a true saying, that if the people knew their money was spent, taxes would be easily collected. This saying applies to now, with peculiar force, to Cambria county. Look for instance at your Poor House, where about fifty persons are indifferently supported at a cost of $10,000 per year. Of course no sane man believes that a sum is spent for the benefit of the inmates. The present Steward, having made much money as he is likely to need, has shyly consented to withdraw, remaining a silent partner. The present County Treasurer being at last settlement a defaulter, in the sum of near $4,000.00, and the leading politicians of town being his security, the candidate for Poor House Director, a brother-in-law of the Treasurer, who has enough of the County's money to start a Shoe Store, is nominated, and the Treasurer, being a cousin of another Director, and a cousin of the candidate for Sheriff, is to be appointed Steward of the Poor House, so that these worthies can get their money back, ez necessitate. This is the plan, it may be altered as to form, but not as to substance. But had as this is, the operations of your Commissioner's office is far worse. Think of paying your Commissioners $2,400.00 for doing the business which a good business man can do forly in days. Think too of paying $2,000.00 for the support of about an average, six persons for a year in your jail. But you may ask, have we not Auditors to settle all these accounts yearly. Unfortunately the Auditors seldom know anything about their business. They come to town, and the first persons with whom they confer are the Commissioners. They tell the Auditors they must have a Clerk, and that the Commissioner's Clerk is the proper person; he is employed, and as one of the Auditors is always to be Commissioner next year, any and all bills are soon passed. They then go to the Poor Houses, where the Directors' Clerk and the Commissioners' Clerk soon settle the accounts and cover all tracks. This is the system, and it is time the people knew it. The papers will never say a word, because they almost live by receiving exorbitant bills for public printing. People of Cambria county, whatever denial of the above may be made, you may rest assured that the half has not been told. The remedy is in your hands, and if you do not use it, you deserve to be taxed to death. Break up these camps of dishonesty, the Commissioners and Poor House Directors, and your burdens will be lightened, otherwise these burdens will be doubled within a few years.

This mean, poisonous libel was without a signature, and was accompanied by a ticket headed by Sharswood and Linton, and the rest made up of the radical candidates. It elicited the following reply: CAMBRIA FREEMAN—EXTRA. MIDNIGHT LYING.

The Democratic ticket of Cambria county was fairly nominated, in broad daylight, in an open Convention, where all the world might witness the proceedings. From that time to the present neither of the two republican papers in Cambria county, conducted by men responsible for what they say, have dared to utter a word against the honesty or fitness of the respective candidates, and when we made no charge against the Republican candidates, we supposed the canvass would be conducted on principle.

We were mistaken. A foul and slanderous midnight handbill has gone out, on the eve of the election, not signed by the respectable Chairman of the Republican Committee. It calls, not by any responsible name, no Republican in the county being mean enough to father it. No doubt it was hatched in the midnight orgies of the League. We do not blame the Republicans, as the only candidate on their ticket from this section of the county, Samuel Singleton, Esq., has been sacrificed by the movement.

This handbill contains more falsehoods than sentences, and is a libel not only on nearly all the leading Democrats in the county, but on the Democratic party itself. It is not content with lying about the candidates, but with the wickedness to slander Col. McDermitt, a brave soldier, as a heavy defaulter without the shadow of truth, as he has not a dollar of public money in his hands. Thus are the soldiers of the Republic slandered for the purpose of electing a Canadian Radical Sheriff and a poor tool Poor House Director.

It will be time enough after the election to trace up the parties to this infamous libel. For the present we can only say to our fellow Democrats, BE ON YOUR GUARD AGAINST FALSE TICKETS. EXAMINE EVERY TICKET BEFORE YOU VOTE, for along with this handbill is a Republican ticket bearing the names of Judge Sharswood and Col. Linton, and another with all the Democratic nominees upon it excepting John A. Blair and John D. Thomas.

Fellow Democrats! we shall carry the States; but let the election of Judge Sharswood and the joy it will afford, be dampened by the defeat of a single candidate on our ticket, especially when the effort is made through secret midnight handbills.

R. L. JOHNSTON, Chairman Democratic Co. Com.

But it was not needed. The people of Cambria county have too much sense to swallow a midnight fetch of this kind. Some preserved the bill as a literary curiosity, some burnt it, and some even converted it to an unseemly purpose—but perhaps not a score of them voted the ticket which accompanied it. On the contrary, while the fraudulent ticket conspired with Col. Linton's popularity to throw our friend, Mr. Singleton, behind his ticket, the reaction on the part of right-minded Republicans, ran the other Democratic candidates ahead of Sharswood.

The ignorance of the poor devil who got up the bogus ticket is equal to his impudence, as he spelled Sheriff Rickman's name wrong, took an "M" out of Commissioner Flanagan's name, an "A" and a "C" out of Treasurer McDermitt's, a "B" out of Coroner Stineman's, and made an Auditor of Thomas Van Scoyoc instead of John.

But enough! It may be some consolation to the gettens-up of this handbill to know that they are despised by every decent Democrat and Republican in the county.

A "lovely girl" in Wisconsin recently recovered fourteen hundred dollars damages in a breach of promise suit against a perfidious lover. Her lawyer congratulated her on the amount, when she exclaimed, with a furious glance towards the mulcted defendant, and nervously clenching her fingers, "I'd give every cent of it for one good pull at his hair!"

—On the 10th salutes of one hundred guns were fired by the Democracy of Worcester, Mass., Auburn, N. Y., Bangor and Portland, Maine, Baltimore, Maryland, whilst at Lockport and Watertown, N. Y., illuminations, bonfires and firing of cannon were indulged in, over the victory in this State and the great success in Ohio.

THE JOHNSTOWN TRIBUNE.

Our Johnstown neighbor is disposed to be severe upon the Chairman of the Democratic County Committee for a short address issued by him on the eve of the election, in reply to a scurrilous, anonymous handbill which had made its appearance. There was little time for reflection, and we had to meet a most dastardly act, yet if we did injustice even to the League we are sorry for it. When a paper appeared playing into the hands of the radicals, it was natural to suppose it came from their camp; yet we execrated every decent Republican from any share in it.

We are under obligations to the Tribune for considering the Chairman no "blockhead," especially as that epithet, never very flattering, has grown worse in signification since Greeley applied it to the radicals, but think he should not be quite so sensitive on the subject of small, considering the crowd who have been to the windward of him for the last few years.

RETURNING REASON.

The following very sensible remarks appeared in the Pittsburgh Chronicle, on the morning after the election. We commend them to the thinking portion of the Republicans here:

The imperfect returns of the vote on yesterday in the Western Reserve, Ohio, show a state of sentiment which we confess takes us by surprise. We supposed that there would be in that section little division amongst the republicans relative to the Amendment giving suffrage to black men. It appears, however, that there has not been such unanimity in the party on that question, even on the Reserve, as had been conjectured, and it will very seriously raise the inquiry whether we can in justice descend the South to do what we refuse to do ourselves.

A defection on the question of suffrage in strong Republican districts will very naturally excite people to consider the propriety of insisting on an absolute condition of restoration on the enfranchisement of the blacks in States where they far outnumber the white voters, whilst we of the North are unwilling to extend suffrage to the few blacks who live in our midst, and whose vote could exercise no material influence over public affairs.

OHIO.—The Cincinnati Enquirer says the political success in this State is perfectly wonderful. Of the 42,000 Radical majority which towered so high last year, hardly a vestige remains. There has been a change for the Democrats in the total vote, of at least ten per cent. The most sanguine expectations of the Democracy have been more than realized. The Republicans, putting confidence in the loud boasts and taunts of their organs of local immense majorities they would obtain, are dumbfounded at the result. They had no premonition of the tremendous popular hurricane that was setting in. It struck them like a thunderbolt, delivered from a clear sky. They now see the "handwriting on the wall," which presages their future doom. Their ascendancy in Ohio is irretrievably broken, if only a moderate degree of sense shall actuate the Democratic party.

HON. WILLIAM A. WALLACE.—At a time when every man has done his duty, it is perhaps invidious to single out a particular name to mention with especial praise. But no one will find fault with our calling attention to the able and energetic manner in which the Chairman of the Democratic State Committee discharged all his duties. The position he occupied required capacity of a peculiar order, and we rejoice that such a competent and efficient leader was placed at the head of the Democratic column during the campaign which has just terminated in a glorious victory for the Democratic cause. Mr. WALLACE labored earnestly and faithfully. He gave all his time to a proper organization of the Democratic forces, and we, in common with thousands in our midst, heartily thank him for the marked ability he displayed in the performance of his official duties.—Arg.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

—Gen. Barr is defeated for Senator in Allegheny by Russell Errett by only 5,400 votes. The General made a good run.

—A quiet, inoffensive Democrat named Richard Taylor was so badly beaten on election day by Philadelphia Radicals that he cannot recover.

—The President has pardoned sixteen soldiers who were convicted last summer by court-martial of joining in Fenian demonstrations at Buffalo.

—It is believed in Chicago that Mrs. Lincoln's circumstances are not so straightforward as represented. It is intimated that a wedding is in contemplation.

—Sharp Yankee skippers now load their schooners at Boston with molasses, and, during the passage to New York distill the stuff into whisky—saving the revenue.

—A gentleman taken sick with yellow fever on board a Mississippi steamer was put ashore and remained on the river bank for two days, was robbed of his clothes and money, and finally died of starvation and neglect.

—Counterfeit United States 7-80 bonds of the A B series to the amount of $70,000 have been discovered at the Treasury, where they were sent for redemption. They are of the $1,000 denomination and well executed.

—The public money that Radical "freedom-builders" will coast would buy enough land in South America upon which to colonize all the Southern negroes and pay the cost of their transportation thither into the bargain.

—Three Louisiana negroes recently killed a young man, keeper of a store, by chopping his head and face with an axe, cutting his throat and stabbing him seven times. They did it to procure money, rum and dry goods.

—Two nice young men of Virginia, Ill., named Thompson, have paid $50 and costs each, for breaking up a dancing party by sprinkling Cayenne pepper on the floor of the hall when the fantastic toes were tripping one evening last week.

—The Pacific Railroad is now receiving hewlock railroad ties from Chicago, five hundred miles, and then up the road four hundred miles—nine hundred miles by rail—at a cost delivered at the Missouri River, of not over eighty cents per tie.

—The Catholic priests in New Orleans have many of them died of the epidemic. The Times speaks enthusiastically of the zeal they show in fulfilling the painful duties imposed upon them in ministering to the spiritual wants of the sick and dying.

—The cashier of the First National Bank of New Milford, Connecticut, is a defaulter to the amount of $50,000. He was regarded as an honest and religious man, but got into stock gambling with the common result. He has gone to Canada.

—Two Tennessee built a fire under a cow to make her move, and the creature died of torture. The next day one of these men passed the place on horseback, the horse became frightened at the dead cow, threw his rider and nearly killed him. A neat case of poetical justice.

—Levi Silliman Ives, D. D., L. L. D., formerly Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, of North Carolina, and well known for his religious writing, Philanthropic works, and conversion to the Catholic faith, died at his residence in Manhattanville, N. Y., Monday afternoon.

—A few days ago Mark Dempsey, an engineer on the Lehigh Valley railroad, fell from the train, the wheels of which passed over and cut his body into pieces. He was dragged over one hundred yards and horribly mutilated. His fragmentary remains were found strewn along the track for the above-mentioned distance.

—In New Orleans, according to the reports of the newspapers of that city, there have been no less than 40,000 persons who have had the yellow fever during the present season. The New Orleans Times attributes the wide spread of the disease to the neglect of the public authorities to keep the city in good sanitary condition.

—The editor of the Louisiana Democrat saw, a few days ago, in Alexandria, an old negro freedman, at least eighty-five years old, with two large navy revolvers buckled to his waist, a pepper-box revolver in each breeches pocket, a huge sugar-cane-knife in his bosom and a loaded walking cane in his right hand. He was a delegate to the Radical mongrel convention.

Lincolnia.—Indecent and Discreditable.

From the Cleveland Herald (Rad.)

Our readers in perusal of the article copied from the New York World, will agree in this, that the disclosure there made is very indecent on the part of Mrs. Lincoln, and sadly discredit to that person; for, of course, the private letters there spread out are published with the knowledge and consent of the writer. The New York Times says:

We believe it is no secret that Mrs. Lincoln is in this city, under an assumed name, trying to dispose of a quantity of valuable lace, shawls, jewelry, and other articles received as presents by her while in the White House, from parties interested in securing her favor. We have heard mysterious whisperings that unless they were redeemed by parties who had received political favors at the hands of their owner, very damaging revelations were likely to be made. The sooner they are made the better for the party, the country, and all concerned.

No person would be justified in dragging Mrs. Lincoln before the public, and in probing the domestic and private affairs of the White House, so far as she was instrumental in their administration; but Mrs. Lincoln has herself come before the world, appealing to the public for sympathy, and if that appeal results in disclosures, damaging to herself, she can alone be held responsible therefor.

It has been believed that charity and oblivion were the cloaks that should cover Mrs. Lincoln's career as mistress of the White House, and a generous public has been willing such should be the case; but if Mrs. Lincoln will not permit it, on her own head must lie the consequences Congress has been charitable, too, for it is well known that investigation has been suppressed through regard for the feelings of that lady. But we hope that nothing will now be kept secret, and that we may know the whole truth in the premises—let the scalpel of investigation cut where it may.

A lady whose early life was one of very simple indulgences, and whose sphere was one of very limited circumference, suddenly raised to the possession of an income of seventeen hundred dollars per year, with a profusion of shawls ranging from seventy-five dollars to two thousand dollars, with dress patterns costing four hundred and fifty dollars, a parasol costing two hundred and fifty dollars, and a handkerchief valued at eighty dollars, with diamond rings to match, cannot expect plain, economical people to believe her when she complains of being pressed for means of common subsistence.

The facts are just these: Judge Davis, Lincoln's Administrator, reported that the estate was worth $75,000. Congress gave Mrs. Lincoln the President's unexpired year's salary, and also gave her $25,000 besides, the same as was allowed the late Mrs. General Harrison.

Congressman Wentworth pressed Mrs. Lincoln's claim for one hundred thousand dollars, but Congress did not think such a course justifiable. There are other facts that should see the light, and perhaps would explain Mrs. Lincoln's straightened circumstances. Among such facts is this, that a bill for $15,000 for jewelry purchased by Mrs. Lincoln, was presented to Congress and disallowed, and the secrets of that committee would divulge most remarkable matters that through Mrs. Lincoln were presented for payment. We hope these things will be made public, and that it also may be known what the forty huge boxes sent to Chicago from the White House, after the death of Mr. Lincoln, contained. Let the country know the fact that it required an appropriation of one hundred thousand dollars to make good the spoilation of the White House, and let it be proved who had the benefit of such plundering.
